ALLEGED NEW ATTACK HAWAII WOMAN

RUTH JUDD INDULGES COURT ROOM OUTBURST

HONOLULU FLAMES

ANEW AS WOMAN IS ASSAULTED TODAY

ESCAPED MURDERER IDENTIFIED AS ATTACKER OF WOMAN

HONOLULU, Jan. 21.—(P)—The story of a Japanese woman that she had been criminally assaulted here last night by Daniel Lyman, fugitive murder convict, was contradicted today by emergency hospital authorities who made an examination and reported the laboratory tests were negative.

Public feeling, still smoldering over other recent attacks on women and in the lynching of one suspected assailant, was aroused once more at the story of the woman, Mrs. Toka Okazaki, 29, who said she identified a photograph of Daniel Lyman, escaped convict, as her assailant.

A vigorous search for Lyman had been under way since he made his getaway from Oahu prison Dec. 31 with Lul Kikaku. The latter attacked a woman while at large but was captured and returned to prison for life.

Dr. Thomas M. Mossman of the city emergency hospital investigators said Mrs. Okazaki had not been assaulted but that an attempt to attack her had been made.

HONOLULU, Jan. 21.—(P)—Honolulu was aroused today to a fresh hunt after another attack on a woman.

Mrs. Toka Okazaki, 29, mother of two children, complained to police she had been assaulted near John Rodgers airport by a man, who she identified through a photograph as Daniel Lyman, escaped Portuguese-Hawaiian murderer.

The assault occurred as authorities were preparing to place before the grand jury evidence in the lynching of Joseph Kahahawai, Hawaiian, alleged attacker of a navy officer's wife, and as the territorial legislature in special session.

GENUINE MORTGAGE BANK URGED BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(P)—A "genuine" mortgage bank was urged before a senate committee today by Robert Oakman of Detroit, who said the pending federal home loan discount bill measure fails to meet requirements urged by President Hoover.

"The pending bill will not give relief to the working man who is trying to pay for his home," he said. "The bill provides for mortgage home loans as high as $15,000."

"This would mean at least a $30,000 home; a splendid place for the workingman, indeed. This sum should be cut down to not more than $6,000 or $7,000."

I. Friedlander of Houston, Texas, called the bill "excellent." He suggested the $15,000 limit on loans would be all right, although he preferred $10,000.

NEW MEXICAN CABINET IN POWER THURSDAY; FOLLOWS WEEK OF RUMORED CHANGES

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 21.—(P)—The Mexican capital awoke today after a week of insistent rumors to find a reorganized cabinet in power—a cabinet containing four new members and four carryovers from the old administration.

The four members who dropped out were Finance Minister Montes de Oca, Foreign Minister General Estrada, Minister of Communications Gustavo P. Serrano and Minister of Industry Aaron Saenz.

Senator Estrada was appointed ambassador to Spain and Mexican representative at the League of Nations.

The replacements were: Albert J. Pani, former ambassador to Spain, who becomes finance minister; Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez, who moves up from under secretary to become minister of industry; Gen. Miguel M. Acosta, who becomes minister of communications; and Gen. Juan Jose Rios, who replaces Manuel C. Tol-

New York City's Finances Eased By Large Fund

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(P)—The city of New York and bankers have solved the city's financial difficulties—temporarily at least.

Corporate stock notes to the amount of $100,000,000 will be underwritten by a banking group headed by J. P. Morgan and company and Kuhn, Loeb and company. Meanwhile the money will be placed immediately at the city's disposal in order that municipal obligations falling due in the next few days can be met.

The same banking group also agreed to establish a revolving credit fund of $150,000,000 to be drawn on by the comptroller whenever needed.

Thomas H. Lamont of the Morgan firm said the stock notes probably would be issued in denominations ranging upward from $100.

BRITISH ANNOUNCE REPARATIONS MEET HAS BEEN POSTPONED

OFFICIALS STILL HOPE SUCCESSFUL SESSION WILL BE HELD IN FUTURE

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(P)—Postponement of the Lausanne reparations conference, announced here yesterday, does not mean the conference will not be held later it was said in official circles today.

The government is continuing its preliminary work and hopes that the conference will ultimately be held and be a success, it was stated.

Newspaper commentators who supported this hope deprecated rumors that the conference was abandoned instead of postponed. The Times, which said it realized a permanent solution of the reparations problem is at present impossible, asked: "Is that really sufficient reason for an attitude of helplessness such as abandonment of the meeting would suggest?"

The paper pointed out that Germany is still anxious that the meeting be held and it said "courtesy alone seems to suggest that the invitation should not be cancelled and that Germany should be given an opportunity of saying what it has to say and that creditors and debtors in common debt should be able to consider what can be done at once."

Announcement of the postponement of the conference was made in a statement from the foreign office which said it was "evident" the conference could not now begin next Monday as was originally planned.

The conferences which have been taking place between the governments chiefly concerned with the reparations have not yet concluded and it is evident the conference cannot be begun as early as next Monday, the date which had been previously arranged, said the foreign office note.

No More Moratoriums.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—(P)—Announcement of postponement of the Lausanne reparations conference, made in London yesterday, caused no surprise in official circles here.

CONGRESS BOOSTED HOOVER'S BUSINESS REVIVAL PANACEAS

RECONSTRUCTION AND FEDERAL LAND BANK BILLS NEAR FINAL PASSAGE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(P)—Congress boosted two of the president's proposals for reinvigorating business to the very top of the legislative hill today and prepared for the parting formalities that will speed them on their way to the White House.

Only the routine of adopting a conference report stayed the departure of the $2,000,000,000 reconstruction measure from capital hill. Both houses had to act on it but that was regarded as only a matter of a few hours.

The bill to add $125,000,000 to the capital of federal land banks was completely through the house. Adoption of the conference report ironing out the differences between that branch and the senate came shortly after the house met.

The senate yet has to adopt the report.

But, while these measures holding full presidential approval were approaching the White House, there emerged from a senate committee a bill running counter to Mr. Hoover's wishes. This was an authorization of $375,000,000 for direct federal aid to the unemployed. It was approved by the manufacturers committee and instant signs of opposition came from administration Republicans.

Committees on both sides were active with such subjects, as taxes on amusement tickets, naval construction, disputed judgeship nominations, a home loan bank system, consolidation of the war and navy departments, and the operation of bars on American ships.

HEAD APPROPRIATION COMMITTEE SAYS VAST SUM CAN BE SAVED

CHAIRMAN BYRNS SAYS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY REDUCE EXPENDITURES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(P)—Consideration of the army and navy was proposed to the house expenditures committee today with the prediction that it would save $100,000,000 a year.

Chairman Byrns of the appropriations committee gave the estimate during a hearing on his bill to create a department of national defense.

"We have reached the point where we have got to cut down the expenditures of this government which are pyramiding until the people no longer can bear them," he said.

His bill would provide that a new secretary of national defense have three assistants—one for the army, one for the navy and one for aviation. He told the committee it might be advisable to have a fourth assistant secretary for munitions.

Byrns said he did not blame army and navy officers for "not wanting us to pass this bill."

"But they shouldn't be allowed to run the government," he added. The Tennessee Democrat read budget estimates for 1933 to show expenditures in Washington for civilian personnel, contingent expenses and printing and binding in the war and navy departments totaled more than $9,800,000.

"You don't have to be told that if you consolidate those services you could save money," Byrns said. "I don't say you could cut that figure in half, but if you combine the departments under one head you could cut them not less than one-third."

Byrns also said there were in Washington 545 army, 448 navy, and 82 marine corps officers.

"Is there any excuse for that?" he asked. "We are paying them $4,000 to $6,000 a year when we can get civilians to do the same work for one-third that amount."

FIND AUTO USED DENVER KIDNAPING FINGERPRINTS AID

FEAR IS GROWING FOR LIFE OF VICTIM, RANSOM IS UNPAID

DENVER, Jan. 21.—(P)—Finding of the motor car used by kidnapers of Benjamin J. Bower, 62, held for $50,000 ransom, gave police their first major clue today, as relatives of the bakery corporation manager expressed fear he had been slain.

An offer of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers was made by Denver officials after the car was found abandoned on the outskirts of the city. Fingerprints were taken from it.

The wife of the victim appealed through the press to the abductors not to kill her husband because police were called in violation of instructions of the men who took him from their home Tuesday night.

"I cannot pay the ransom," she said. "I haven't the money and the kidnapers haven't communicated with me as they promised."

FRANKLIN, Robertson County, Texas, Jan. 21.—(Special to the Sun)—Testimony was started in the hearing on the injunction suit brought by the state of Texas through the county attorney of Robertson county against F. #### ARGENTINE OPENS LEGISLATURE WITH ATTACK ON URIBURU

PRESS ALSO CENSURES NEW TAX SCHEDULES ANNOUNCED ON WEDNESDAY

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 21.—(P)—The first Argentine legislative session since the revolution of 1930 established itself in the long quiet legislative halls today and began by launching a bitter oratorical attack on the De Facto government to President Urriburu which has held the power since the revolution.

At the same time newspapers attacked the President's new income tax decrees of yesterday, declaring he had no authority to make such changes in the taxing system without legislative action and predicting the courts would hold them unconstitutional.

The legislative session, which began at 2 p. m. yesterday, was called by the provisional government to ratify the recent general elections which were held with a regularly constituted regime.

Senator Palacios, socialist member, declared he returned to the legislative halls on mandate of the people and not in response to the government's decree. The decree, he said, "insults legislative dignity."

He urged that the President of the senate assume the executive power in the country, to signify a return to normal conditions.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF TRUNK MURDERS IN ATTACK ON DOCTOR

SPECTATORS AGAIN BATTLE GAIN ENTRANCE INTO COURT ROOM

COURT HOUSE, PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 21.—(P)—Winnie Ruth Judd leaped from her chair during her murder trial today to denounce Dr. Joseph Catton of San Francisco, prosecution alienist.

"You get out of here," she cried, rising with tensed muscles and flashing eyes as the tall psychiatrist approached her chair during a brief court recess.

"Make him get out! Make him get out!" she appealed to her attorneys.

"I won't have you near me," she swung again to confront Dr. Catton. "You talked about me. Get out!"

Dr. Catton, nonplussed and amazed, backed away then turned and left the room as defense counsel, the matron and Dr. George W. Stephens, defense alienist, attempted to quiet Mrs. Judd.

The defendant finally was persuaded to return to her chair, muttering, "I won't have him near me. He talked about me. He acted like a little boy."

She sat nervously clasping and unclasping her hands, glaring angrily at the doorway through which Catton had disappeared.

Mrs. Judd is facing trial for the slaying of Agnes Anne Lewis and Hedvig Samuelson, her friends, here last October and sending their bodies to Los Angeles in trunks. Testimony started today following two days spent in selection of a jury.

Dr. Catton, before leaving San Francisco to appear as a witness, said he was convinced Mrs. Judd was sane and that he expected her to tell "the whole story of the crime" before the trial ended.

Before the sudden outbreak Mrs. Judd had sat with down-drawn mouth and nervously shrugging shoulders to observe the 12 men who are to decide whether she shall forfeit her life for the slaying of Miss Lewis.

Among witnesses marshalled by the state, who appeared in court to be sworn before taking of testimony was stated, was J. J. Hilar, Phoenix lumber leader, whose name repeatedly was brought into defense questioning of jurors.

COURT HOUSE, Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 21.—(P)—Scores of milling spectators stormed the stairway of the county court house today in an effort to reach Judge Howard C. Speakman's court room to hear the first day of testimony in

SENATOR CAPPER INTRODUCES BILL HIGH OIL TARIFF

WOULD PUT TAX $1.03 PER BARREL ON CRUDE, EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(P)—A resolution to set up tariff duties on petroleum and its products based on $1.03 a barrel on crudes was introduced today by Senator Capper, republican, Kansas.

The resolution would direct the tariff commission to publish tariff duties of 63 cents a barrel on gas and fuel oils; 5 1/2 cents a gallon on gasoline; 5 1/4 cents on kerosene, and 80 per cent ad valorem on other refined products.

The rates would become effective 30 days after being published by the commission. Capper said they were designed to correspond to the differences in cost of production here and abroad as shown by the commission's most recent report.

The rates, he said, would be in the interest of American consumers as well as independent producers and refiners because the big importers are forcing the independents out of business and "it is only a matter of time until the practical oil monopoly in this country will be an accomplished fact."

Quarter Million In Jewels Stolen From Apartment

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(P)—Jewelry valued by police at more than $250,000 was stolen today from the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glemby in East 67th street by three bandits who bound Glemby and a butler and escaped about the time detectives, informed by telephone, were starting for the scene from the East 67th street police station, a little more than two blocks away.

When the butler opened the door in answer to their rings, the robber told him they were bootleggers with a package of liquor to deliver personally to Glemby.

When he refused to let them in, they over the head with the butt of a revolver and forced their way in.

Police believed the robbery was planned when attention was drawn down the hallway to Glemby's apartment, where they struck down the butler, she screamed and fainted, dropped the receiver, a woman to whom she had been talking immediately called police.

GRAY SUIT TAKES PROMINENT PLACE MURDER TESTIMONY

SHILO SCRIVNOR BEING TRIED FOR GANG MURDER OF HOUSTON WOMAN

HOUSTON, Jan. 21.—(P)—A gray suit, draped over a corner of the witness stand, was a subject of prosecution testimony today in the murder trial of W. S. (Shilo) Scrivnor.

Scrivnor stands charged with the slaying of M. C. A. (Keggy) Jones here last August but is on trial only for the murder of the woman. The slaying followed by one day the murder of John Cherris and was in reprisal, police believed, for the Cherris killing.

Seven laundry marks on the suit, from cleaning shops in Houston and Galveston, were identified today by witnesses.

F. N. Leland, secretary and treasurer of the Master Cleaners and Dyers, said the laundry marks showed the suit was brought to his shop before noon, Monday, Aug. 31. The suit was listed under the name "Jenkins," he said, and the man who brought in the suit ordered the cleaning job completed for delivery late that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were killed on Monday morning, Aug. 31. The suit was found in a room in a Des Moines hotel after Del McCabe, gangster, was slain by officers who sought to arrest him and his co-defendant, Scrivnor.

Scrivnor was arrested in the hotel room where the trunk containing the suit was found.

H. T. Stegman, owner of a Galveston cleaning plant, identified a mark on the suit as made at his establishment. He said the notation indicated the suit was picked up by his driver at the home of M. M. Sedgewick, brother-in-law of Scrivnor, on May 25.

TWO-GUN CROWLEY CUTS OUT PAPER TOYS AS EXECUTION DAY FOR MURDER AT HAND

OSSING, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(P)—On his last day on earth Francis (Two Gun) Crowley snarled at the proffered food of his fellow prisoners, turned his full attention to his cell, and ate steak and plenty of dessert.

"I want nothing to do with her," the scrawny youth who is to die tonight for the murder of a policeman told Warden Lewis E. Lawes when 17-year-old Helen Walsh arrived at sing prison with a court order permitting her to see Crowley "at the warden's discretion."

"I hear she's going with a cop," continued Crowley. "I don't want to see anyone but my family."

And then, while Warden Lawes was telling Helen Walsh in the prison office that Crowley scorned her, Crowley made out the menu for his final meal.

"I'll have a big juicy T-bone steak," Crowley told a keeper as the girl upstairs listened silently to his message of contemptuous

JURY FINDS LAW DISCRIMINATORY; JUDGE TO RULE

SUIT BROUGHT TO TEST LAW APPORTIONING AUTO-MOBILE LICENSE FEES

HOUSTON, Jan. 21.—(P)—A district court jury today held the state automobile license tax law discriminatory.

Judge Charles Ashe will render his judgment later, and the fate of the statute will not be settled, of course, until that time.

Harris county commissioners brought the suit to test the law, claiming it was discriminatory, in its apportionment of license fees collected as between the various counties and the state. The commissioners sought injunction to restrain County Tax Collector J. W. Hall from remitting to the state any fees collected in this county. Judge Ashe will determine whether the injunction is to be granted or denied.

The jurors answered "no" to this special issue.

In the classification of the 254 Texas counties into three groups reasonable?

They answered "yes" to the second special issue.

If the classification by which Harris, Dallas, El Paso, Tarrant and Jefferson counties each receive only $175,000 (from the fee collections) arbitrary as between the five counties?

The classification into three groups allows counties collecting up to $50,000 in license fees to retain all their collections; normal counties collecting more than $50,000.

RAIL PRESIDENTS PRESENT FIGURES ON ROAD EARNINGS CLAIMED GROSS EARNINGS IN 1931 WERE THIRD LESS THAN IN 1929

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—(P)—The railway presidents came forward today with the "important statistics" demanded by union labor in support of the plea for acceptance of a 10 per cent wage reduction.

The presidents asserted that gross earnings of the railroads in 1931 were 33 per cent less than in 1929.

Their statement presented a mass of data on railway earnings and answered the labor proposals at the joint wage conference.

The Brotherhood and Union delegates Tuesday had made clear they would not accept the arguments of the carriers on the need for adequate investment, return on the railroads, or a picture of railway financial conditions and a statement of what was needed to meet fixed charges and maintain credit.

Miss Walsh was with Crowley when he committed the murder for which he is to die tonight.

OSSING, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(P)—Francis Crowley, scrawny youth who lived all his 20 years in New York and can scarcely write his name, cut out the last of his paper toys today and stole glances at a picture of the electric chair pasted on his cell wall. He will die in the chair at Sing Sing tonight for murdering a policeman.

"I didn't want to forget it," said Crowley, explaining with a leer why he pasted up the picture of the chair when they put him in the death house.

Experts tried to find in his past the reasons why the twisted youth

GOVERNMENT COAST GUARD BOATS RESCUE MAROONED FAMILIES

GLENDORA, Miss. Jan. 21.—(P)—Swift coast guard boats, manned by experienced sailors and Red Cross workers, traversed the Mississippi delta today picking up marooned families, concentrating the homes at refugee centers and distributing food to thousands made destitute by high waters.

Over the more than 200-mile wide sector in a half dozen counties covered by rampaging rivers that began crashing through levees six weeks ago, the work of rescue and relief went forward in organized fashion.

Coast guard boats, laden with food, brought much-needed relief last night to the little town of Crowley, in Iberville county, to which more than 1,000 homeless and hungry people flocked almost overnight from the flooded Quitman-Panola basin.

The Tallahatchie, Yazoo and tributary streams which worked most of the havoc in the delta when they burst through their levees after weeks of rains were less menacing today but at a score of points the fight to maintain levees, protecting larger towns against threatened rises was continued.

Although nearly all streams in Mississippi, Southeast Arkansas and Louisiana, bordering the Mississippi river proper, have been rising steadily, U. S. engineers in the district reported there is no cause for alarm at this time so far as the big river is concerned.

Amarillo Mayor Is Candidate For Seat U. S. Congress

Col. Ernest O. Thompson

AMARILLO, Jan. 21.—(Spl)—"A public official who makes good 100 per cent on his campaign promises," is the characterization the Amarillo News-Globe gives to Col. Ernest O. Thompson, mayor of Amarillo, in today announcing his candidacy for congressman-at-large in the democratic primary.

Col. Thompson, completing his third year as mayor of Amarillo, his first public office, today outlined a brief platform upon which he will submit his candidacy to the people of Texas. It is terse and unequivocal on the pertinent issues before the people as was his platform for mayor when he submitted it to the people on Jan. 20, 1929, three years ago yesterday.

"If he performs for the people," declares the News-Globe editorially, "as he has served the people of Amarillo, Texas today are assured that the Lone Star State will have a representative in congress who will make national history from the moment he goes into office."

Three years ago Colonel Thompson told Amarilloans that it was time the tax-payers "had a new deal."

Reparations

but Chancellor Brüning informed the British ambassador that Germany could accept no proposal for a one-year extension of the moratorium as a substitute.

Germany has taken the stand that a prolongation of the moratorium would mean an indefinite delay of efforts to reach a final settlement and would mean acceptance of further obligations which she would be unable to carry.

She is understood to rely on the report of the Young plan advisory committee at Basel which said she is unable to make further reparations payments. Authoritative quarters said Germany could accept no commitment after June 30, when the Hoover moratorium expires. The next five months, it was stated, should suffice for the search for a final solution and it was pointed out that every day lost means a continuation of the tension and uncertainty which, it was claimed, is a principal factor in the world crisis.

United States Not Concerned in Meet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(P)—Its position on debts and reparations now clear to Europe, the American government today assumed an outward attitude of disinterest to the whole problem.

Word of the postponement of the Lausanne debt parley was received by the state department from London. Officials declined to comment on the postponement on the grounds the United States had no interest in the parley since it was a strictly European conference.

The administration position is that there is no connection between the payment of German reparations and the fulfillment by the European nations of their obligations to this country.

If the European nations agree among themselves on steps toward righting their economic affairs, it is possible this country would listen sympathetically to an appeal for further debt postponement.

PAYMENT OF POLL TAXES ABOUT SAME AS PREVIOUS YEAR

There had been 2,700 poll tax receipts issued and 175 exemptions at the county tax collectors' office Thursday morning, about the same as on this date last year, it was reported.

This is considerably lower than the figure on the same date in 1928, the last presidential year.

Indications are that there will be considerably fewer poll tax payments this year than in former years despite the large array of candidates for the district, county and precinct offices, to say nothing of the state and national political outlook for "hot" political campaigns during the year.

Officials and political observers are pointing out the provision whereby a person can pay his or her poll tax without the payment of the property and real estate taxes if the other taxes cannot be paid, and are urging the citizens to equip themselves with the polls as this is expected to be a "hot" political year, with plenty of interest in a number of races and campaigns.

There had been 1,974 automobiles and 200 trucks registered Thursday morning which is considerably less than the figures shown at the corresponding date last year. All indications point to a considerably lower registration this year. A big rush for the payment of taxes is anticipated during the closing days of this month.

CONTRACT LET FOR SERVICE STATION ON EAST SEVENTH

Construction was expected to start Thursday afternoon on the new filling station for the Texas & Pacific Coal and Oil Company at the intersection of South Seventh street and East Seventh avenue. J. E. Metcalf & Son were awarded the contract Wednesday when the bids were opened by the Corsicana Warehouse Company.

The corner of the warehouse will be converted into a modern service station with Ben F. Blackmon as manager, and will offer complete servicing for the automobile along Highway 75. Gas, oil, tires, fire repairs, washing and greasing will be provided in the new station. The cost is expected to approximate $4,000.

The station will probably be ready for occupancy in a month's time.

Officers found a pistol about 40 feet from the body. Blood stains were found on the viaduct about 50 feet from the body in another direction.

It was learned Flowers had left his home early this morning to go to work in a meat market where he was employed. Investigators were unable to explain the shooting. The coroner withheld his verdict until all evidence could be studied.

ACTION PLANNED TO DESTROY GIGANTIC GAS TAX EVASION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 21.—(P)—Concerted action by state officials and oil companies to destroy the "gigantic racket" of gasoline tax evasion was urged by F. V. Martinek, Standard Oil of Indiana official and chairman of the Illinois gasoline tax evasion committee, before the Oklahoma Petroleum Marketers' Association here today.

"Until the industry is aroused to stand together as a unit and will have gasoline tax evasion and its resulting evil effects," Martinek said.

The invasion of the industry by the racketeer has left behind a trail of blackmail, corruption, bribery, intimidation and kidnapping," he declared.

The effect on prices is disastrous, Martinek told the marketers, as the price of crude is dependent on the retail price of its products and gasoline bootleggers offer cut-throat competition.

Relief Brought to Snowbound Indians By Bombing Planes

WINSLOW, Ariz., Jan. 21.—(P)—One of the United States army's greatest peace time feats, the bringing of relief to 20,000 Navajo and Zuni tribesmen, faced with starvation in their scattered settlements in Arizona and New Mexico, was brought to a successful close last night.

For days seven of the army's large bombing planes had "bombed" the tribesmen with food, dropping packages of provisions into snowbanks adjacent to the settlements while flying at dangerously low altitudes. Thirteen thousand pounds of food were dropped yesterday.

The army planes were called to the rescue when roads became blocked by record snows and no other means of bringing aid were to be found. The planes expected to return to their base at March Field, Calif., today.

EAGER TO TELL ABOUT HER STOMACH

"I want to tell others about my experience with Pape's Diapensin," says Mrs. B. Eastman, 1200 California St., Denver, Colo. "I tried a lot of things for my indigestion but none of them did any good. Then a friend persuaded me to take a few tablets of this wonderful preparation."

"Now I even eat cabbage without any distress afterwards. It used to cause real suffering. I am not nearly so nervous as I used to be; feel much stronger and better in every way."

A medicine must have real merit to bring forth enthusiastic statements like this. And when not one, but hundreds, even thousands, are telling the same story of success, there seems no reason to doubt the day-in and day-out reliability of Pape's Diapensin to help stomach sufferers.

These harmless, candy-like tablets relieve the heartburn, nausea, gas, belching, headaches, dizziness and other symptoms of indigestion.

UNDETERMINED FIRE DAMAGE IN COTTON CARGO OF VESSEL

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.—(P)—Undetermined damage was done yesterday by fire which broke out in a cotton cargo compartment of the steamship Munaires near Pilotown in the Mississippi river, en route here from Corpus Christi, Texas.

All hatches were closed immediately after the fire was discovered to smother it and city fire equipment was on hand when the boat docked here. The fire department was not needed by a dock board fire boat lay alongside the steamer last night. The boat carried a cargo of 10,000 bales of cotton of which 2,000 were in the compartment where the fire occurred. Spencer Talmadge, district manager of the Munson Line which owns the ship, said only "four or five" bales were destroyed and that the fire was extinguished "ten minutes" after its discovery.

IN MEMORY

Another good man is gone. "In the midst of life there is death." We can hardly realize that our good friend, Dr. J. P. Worsham, is gone. Yes, he died 10 minutes until 10 on Friday, Nov. 19, 1931, and the funeral was held in the M. E. Church at Barry the following day by Bro. Cox. The great throng of sympathizing friends could not be seated in the church house and the many good things said about the deceased and the beautiful floral offering only showed how we esteemed him.

Dr. Worsham was an unselfish, upright, big-hearted Christian gentleman. He was a man who loved him. He numbered his friends by the thousands. His life was an open book and as we all know was spent in behalf of his family and friends. He loved his family and friends. He was a man who was ready to sacrifice for their happiness or comfort. He would never lay down on his job as an honest, conscientious physician but many times went through sleet and snow, rain and mud, when he was called to see the patients he was called to see. He had no turn or disposition to turn a poor fellow down who needed his medical service and lived a life for serving his friends.

Dr. Worsham never accumulated much of this world's goods, but he left a monument in the hearts of his loving friends that is worth all the gold of California or the silver of Peru, and we firmly believe that there was laid up for him a crown of righteousness for the noble, Christian life he lived. No greater sacrifice can a man make than he lay down his life for his friends.

To his heart-broken companion and precious children, we commend you to Him who doeth all things well and many each of us try to live the sacrificing and upright life that he lived so that we can follow in his footsteps.

Is over, we can do as he did, look back over a well spent life, and say deep down in our hearts, "I've done my best."

"I've done my best" and comfort the bereaved ones, give them faith to look beyond the vale of tears and may we some day meet our friends and loved ones where there is no sickness, no sorrow, no disease, or separation.—Written by I. W. F. JESS AND WALTER WILLIAMS.

AUDITORS REPORTED DALLAS SHERIFF DUE COUNTY LARGE SUM

DALLAS, Jan. 21.—(P)—Auditors reported today that Sheriff Hood of Dallas county was entitled to but $9,359.65 of the $30,044.52 in fees which accrued to him in the year 1930.

The remaining $20,684.87 was due the county representing excess of fees retained by Sheriff Hood and unallowable disbursements of funds over fees allowable the report stated.

Or the amount the auditors claimed was due the county, the principal item was $11,571 received from the United States marshal for feeding federal prisoners in the county jail. The auditors held those fees were accountable and should have been turned over to the county.

Sheriff Hood issued a statement in which he defended the conduct of his office and insisted that the matter of retaining fees held accountable by the auditors, involved an interpretation of the law.

BACK TO THE FARM.

For the first time in the decade, 1930 found a net increase in the farm population of the United States, according to estimates of the department of agriculture. The excess of births over deaths alone gave the rural population a gain of 208,000 for a total of 27,430,000.

But there was also a rural gain in the population drift. Whereas, 1,392,000 persons deserted the farms for the cities, 1,543,000 deserted the cities for the farms.

The total shift in population is not great, relatively speaking. But as an indication of a trend it is important. It is a natural result of depression conditions, but it more than likely will continue for some years to come. The young man and woman who deserted the farm to work in a factory are now finding it rather easy to swallow excess pride and go back where there is at least plenty to eat.

Depressions may shut down factories, but they never yet have decreased the fertility of the potato patch down on the farm.

TOO MANY WAYS TO SPELL.

In addition to the innumerable other groups into which all human beings fall, all English-speaking people are divided between good spellers and poor spellers. Both groups will admit that spelling itself falls into two classifications—spelling that is a gift and spelling that is a failing.

There is an alibi for every poor speller. As an excuse for failure to attain perfection in spelling, the alphabet will do as good as any other.

At a time when all of the old excuses advanced by the non-orthographers have been worked to death a new alibi is most welcome. There is one, a professor in a Middle West university being the donor. He is authority for the statement that there are commonly-used English words that can be spelled in millions of different ways. Many unlettered persons have guessed it, or else why would they invariably guess the wrong letter or combination of letters?

An expert's explanation for the over-abundance of bad spelling is the presence of subtle nuances of sound which offer a stumbling block of universal perfection. Proper drilling will make good spellers of most persons, but until all people evaluate sounds alike, reform of the alphabet, simplified spelling and other remedies will have little effect in making spelling easier and misspelled words rarer.

An observer claims Jimmy Walker could be re-elected Mayor without a struggle. Many in New York consider that Jimmy has all the qualifications for the job but the time.

Still, an engraving of "The Star at Bay" or "Alone at Sea" on the back of the stock certificate when issued might make an appeal to art-lovers, when the market collapses.

Cave men, says a distinguished anthropologist, were subject to many dental troubles. However, it isn't as if a stone hatchet would not make a dandy local anesthetic.

A member of the British parliament, possibly a tool of the world haberdashery interests, says he doubts whether Gandhi speaks for the great majority in India.

CREED

Lord, for the day 'tis here I ask
The courage needed for the task;
The patience to abide delay,
The willingness the friend to play.

Lord, grant to me what strength
I'll need
For every large or trivial deed.
And let me, ere the sun descends,
For all past failures make amends.

In some way when shall come the test,
Lord, let me measure to my best.
So let me live that others may Rejoice that I have passed their way.

Lord, this my hope and this my prayer,
That is Thy purpose I may share
And by Thy mercy and Thy grace
Make this day more than commonplace.

NOW IT'S JESSE JAMES

As though it were not enough to have "the mummy of John Wilkes Booth" put back into circulation with a signet ring in his innards, an elderly gentleman now pops up in Missouri and declares he is Jesse James. The man whom the Ford brothers did away with back in 1882 was a victim of mistaken identity, says this claimant. It was Tom Howard, not the notorious Jesse, who was shot in the back for 10,000 pieces of silver, and neither Jesse's brother, his close friends nor his sons knew the difference. And Jesse, we are now asked to believe, has been "just wandering around" these 50 years screwing up his courage to tell the truth.

That's a lot to ask of even a rather credulous world, but since "Jesse James" is now 85 years old nobody should object too strenuously unless he becomes stage-struck or autobiography conscious. However, this matter of resurrection can be carried too far, and some of its vigorous exponents might as well be warned right now. Billy the Kid was safely laid under the sod shortly after Pat Garrett killed him—and killed him completely, remember. Wild Bill Hickock was shot to death in Deadwood and there were plenty of witnesses. Frank Dalton died right under his brother's eyes, so to speak. Joaquin Murrieta is safely buried in California; there are plenty to vouch for it. And Captain Kidd is very, very dead of old age if nothing else.

MIGRATING INDUSTRY.

Emigration of manufacturing plants from the United States to Canada and other foreign countries has attained such serious proportions as to inspire a move in congress to discover the causes and to remove them where possible. Congressman Canfield, of Indiana, has asked for an investigation by the ways and means committee.

Congress has received the information (supposedly accurate) that within the last two years the number of American-owned plants in Canada has more than doubled and that there are now more than 1,000 such plants in the dominion. During the same period American capital has built large factories in other foreign countries. All of these plants are turning out goods formerly made in the United States by American labor.

While the loss to the United States in wages, taxes and business is tremendous there is nothing that can be done about it. American manufacturers built factories in foreign countries in order to be in a position to meet foreign competition. Lower wages and freedom from import duties and embargoes are offered with foreign factory sites. When a foreign government, for the protection of native labor, bars all imports, as Spain did in the case of automobiles, the foreign manufacturer must either drop out of the market or build a branch factory in that country.

American tariffs once induced European manufacturers to build branch factories on American soil and the United States benefited. Now the shoe is on the other foot.

Don't blame Adam. How sorry man would be today if he had no neighbors to watch him!

Afterthought: Probably nothing misses fire as badly as a comic Christmas card that does.

PELLAGRA IN THE UNITED STATES.

In connection with certain studies being conducted by the United States Public Health Service with reference to pellagra, considerable information of historical interest has recently been obtained. It appears that as early as 1864 a physician in New York and another in Massachusetts each reported a case of pellagra. Another physician in New York reported cases in 1882 and 1902. A physician of Georgia reported a case of pellagra complicating hookworm disease in 1902. In 1906 an Alabama physician was the first to report pellagra in endemic form in this country. In submitting the report at that time, this physician pointed out that there had been cases present but unrecognized in the Mount Vernon, Ala., Insane Asylum each year since 1901.

In 1912 a physician in South Carolina from a study of the clinical records of the South Carolina State Hospital for the Insane and some personal interviews and correspondence with practitioners, insane hospital authorities, and others concerned, reached the conclusion that the disease had been continuously present in South Carolina at least since 1828. He also presented information indicating that the same may be said of many other sections of the South. Few of the older American textbooks on medical subjects mention pellagra.

It is not contended that this disease was as prevalent prior to 1907 as it was found to be during the years immediately following. In view of certain inevitable dietary readjustments resulting from shifting economic conditions which are now looked upon as the dominating factors in the epidemiology of the disease, there might easily have been, and it is probable there was, an increase in incidence following the economic depression which began in 1907.

It is a question whether this apparent epidemic nature has not been over estimated to the hindrance of some of the early investigations undertaken to clear up its cause. Such pre-recognition information as has been brought together offers meager support to the view perhaps too commonly held that pellagra made a sudden appearance in the South and quickly assumed epidemic proportions analogous to that of an infectious condition. In view of its undoubted endemic existence prior to that time and with no reliable means

INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH

Research has become so important an adjunct of industrial management in the United States that computation of annual expenditures aggregating $200,000,000 for laboratory work should not be surprising.

The federal bureau of chemistry and bureau of standards have greatly extended their work, while the bureau of mines has for many years conducted valuable researches in its own special fields, including metallurgy and coal production. Industrial corporations have been bringing the chemists and the engineer into their service with laboratories equipped for experimentation, testing, discovery and invention. Within seven years the number of firms having special research departments has virtually doubled, the census gathered by the National Industrial Conference Board showing over a thousand of them.

Here is another factor in the industrial supremacy of the United States. American manufacturers have always been ready to scrap old machinery and adopt new plant or methods that promised greater efficiency or economy of production. But they no longer wait for the university professor to announce a discovery. They do not look across the ocean to Germany for experiments in applied science. They take the scientist from the university and the graduates in chemistry, engineering and other scientific branches, and set them to work in laboratories.

In view of his recent income tax refund of $85,022, maybe the greatest Secretary of the treasury since Hamilton will call on an expert to fill in his March return.

A resident of Heron Lake, Minnesota, has 19 dependent children. Even under the revised Mellon income tax, at its worst, it is figured the government will owe him money.

You'll know it's March 4, 1933, when you see all the Democratic cars in the District of Columbia stepping out with low number plates.

A philosopher is one who gets what he wants in this world by wanting less.

One meek and mild as a kitten may grow up to be a wild cat.

of measuring its incidence before or even since the generally accepted basic requirements for the recognition of an epidemic are not entirely applicable.

A JOB FOR THE VICE-PRESIDENTS

The Prince of Wales has been called England's greatest traveling salesman. He is more than that. He is England's greatest advertising copy writer. He has been connected with the "Buy British" campaign, and he has recently written a foreword to an advertisement by the travel association, which is trying to sell the British Isles to the world as a place to visit.

We have often wondered what to do with our vice-presidents. Is there not an idea in the use Great Britain makes of the Prince of Wales? What is our vice-president but a four-year heir apparent? Yet we give him nothing to do but preside over the senate. A play which recently opened in New York pictures the vice-president as a bewildered and neglected gentleman trying to find his place and his occupation. It is true enough to the fact to be funny. Why not, then, find honorable employment for the vice-president in his too-many spare moments? Why not give him the job of boosting the United States, in speech and in print? Tom Marshall used to do it occasionally, very well indeed.

If it were understood that the position carried with it the duty of advancing our trade, praising our scenery and pointing out the comforts of our hotels, no doubt the political conventions would be far more careful in selecting their nominees.

The killing of these escaped convicts is a lesson to others that there are dangers connected with escape besides being run down by an automobile.

British society women haven't said what they think of Gandhi's objections to their scant attire, but, of course, there's a possibility they're both right.

A list, just compiled, of 15,000 diseases that afflict mankind shows how much harder it must be in modern times to be an all-round hypochondriac.

Goldfish, the army's word for salmon, are a Japanese invention. This would seem to make Nippon even with China for inventing gunpowder.

One explanation is that the scientist who says the next great war will be on the insect world is organizing a fishing expedition.

Maybe they should have put Lenz and Culbertson on bicycles and limited it to six days.

COURTHOUSE NEWS

District Court. The case of Robert D. Hill vs. E. P. Meehan, to try title and sequestration, got under way in the Thirteenth judicial district court Tuesday morning. ## SMITH COUNTY ASKS DESIGNATION ROAD AS STATE HIGHWAY

AUSTIN, Jan. 19.—(P)—Preliminary incident to designating a 26-mile stretch of highway through the East Texas oil field as a part of the state system were gone through today.

The Texas highway commission told a large Smith county delegation that surveys and investigations would be undertaken immediately toward a final decision as to whether the road between Tyler and Kilgore would be annexed to the state mileage.

Grady P. Gentry, Smith county judge, said he was confident the commission would designate the road as soon as it completed its investigation. He was accompanied by W. M. Roberts, W. R. Castle, Sam A. Lindsay, H. E. Laseater, Joe Allen, Louis Shamberger, A. C. Gentry and Gus F. Taylor.

Nineteen miles of the highway are in Smith county and seven and one-half in Gregg county. It was estimated the cost of the highway would be $12,000 per mile. Judge Gentry said the counties would pay one-third of the cost and furnish the right of way.

DEMONSTRATION IN DEHORNING PECAN TREES IS GIVEN

BLOOMING GROVE, Jan. 21.—(Sp.)—The farmers' evening class in Pecan community, four miles north of Blooming Grove, met on the farms of H. G. McGraw and Les Garvin at 1:30 p. m. Monday afternoon, Jan. 18, to continue their study of "Improving Native Pecans to Standard Varieties."

This time their study was a dehorning demonstration in which 20 men and boys in the community were shown how a tree over 24 inches in diameter should be dehorned.

Two trees 30 inches in diameter were dehorned during the afternoon. It required 12 man hours to saw off the limbs at the proper places on these two trees, of an average of six hours per tree. At the present prevailing prices of farm labor in the community, the labor cost of dehorning each of the trees was 60 cents. Had an expert pecan propagator been hired by the contractor to do this job, the charge would have been $5 a tree. By doing the work themselves, the farmers are effecting a saving of $4.40 per tree on the size of the two dehorned during the demonstration.

L. G. McGraw has dehorned 11 trees on his farm since the school for adult farmers opened in the community on Dec. 14. Others are on the waiting list for the dehorning saws and equipment belonging to the vocational agriculture department and to the vocational agriculture teacher.

Following the dehorning demonstration in the afternoon the farmers met at the school building at 7 o'clock and were led in a discussion on "Cutting, Preparing and Storing Bud Wood," by H. L. Spencer, vocational agriculture teacher. In this meeting the farmers reached the decision that to buy the bud-wood in February at bud cutting time was more economical than waiting until they were ready to use the buds and then buy them. They will buy their buds in February and store them in a cold storage plant until ready to use them in the spring.

Arrangements are incomplete at the present time for the field trip to be made to visit several groves in the county that are in the process of being top-worked to standard varieties.

Feb. 2 is the day set for the trip and a complete itinerary and schedule will be announced at the next meeting, which will be on Monday night, Jan. 22, at the Pecan school building. The subject for discussion at this next meeting will be "Cost of Top-Working Native Pecans."

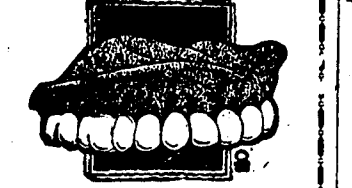

The public is invited to attend these meetings by the organization and they plan to make it annual.

Insull was chosen from among hundreds of candidates by a distinguished committee to receive the honor, and it came to him in recognition of his work as chairman of the joint emergency relief fund for Cook county. This organization solicited, collected and has almost entirely disbursed more than $100,000 for the relief of unemployed wage earners in the county.

In addition to a sizeable cash contribution to the fund, Insull took a leave of absence from his duties as vice-chairman of five of the largest of the huge group of Insull utility companies and from Oct. 1 to Dec. 15 gave his entire attention to the tremendous work of collecting the money to be used for relief. He served without pay.

The "Junior Insull," as he is known to many business associates is vice-chairman and second only to his father, on the board of Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, Commonwealth Edison Company, Midland United Company, Middle West Utilities Company, and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Chicago Doctor Says Chins Are Receding Slowly

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—(P)—Some time in the dim and distant future the double chin problem may no longer be a source of worry to the women—or the men.

In fact, it is doubtful if they will have any chins at all, in the opinion of Dr. Isaac Abt, expressed yesterday before the Chicago Dental society.

Dr. Abt, who is connected with the department of pediatrics of Northwestern University, said it was all because the jaw seems "to be diminishing in size and the teeth are becoming crowded."

Modern civilization was blamed.

Naval Flier Killed In Collision With Destroyer Mast

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 21.—(P)—Collision of an amphibian plane with the foremast of the destroyer Alden killed Ensign Malcolm Dulaney, 25, a naval reserve flier, here last night.

Dulaney had just taken off in the plane from North Island. The destroyer was anchored in the harbor here.

An unofficial inquiry led officers to believe Dulaney failed to see the Alden which, however, was said to have displayed the customary lights.

The public is invited to attend these meetings by the organization and they plan to make it annual.

W.C.T.U. OBSERVED TWELFTH BIRTHDAY PROHIBITION LAW

The W. C. T. U. observed the twelfth anniversary of national prohibition Thursday by holding a delightful county officers conference in the morning at the home of Mrs. D. A. Whittington at which time the new officers for the county organization arranged a program for the year. Luncheon was served at the noon hour and activities for the year set in motion. In the afternoon Mrs. Frank Roorbach and mother were hostesses to a real prohibition rally. About 100 were in attendance and an inspirational program was given.

Mrs. Fred Lawson had charge of the program and after a rousing temperance song, led by Mrs. Verner, and a splendid devotional devotion led by Mrs. A. L. Noel, Mrs. Lawson made an introductory talk, telling the object of the meeting and calling to mind the importance of united effort if we expect to accomplish our desired results.

Mrs. Mary R. Powell of Waxahatchie was introduced and gave an inspirational talk. Her subject was "On the Firing Line." Five minute talks were made by several ministers.

Miss Louise Bradley of Corsicana, the young leader of the Local Temperance Union, gave a talk on the work for the children.

The above item was taken from Saturday's Ennis Daily News. This conference meeting included representatives from Navarro and Ellis county. Corsicana has the honor of having three members in the district council. Mrs. Adair Dickson, president of the local W. C. T. U., Mrs. C. R. Lloyd, chairman of district flower committee, and Louise Bradley, recording secretary of Ellis and Navarro counties, and district director of L. T. L. work.

IMPROVING
Tinting the Hair
Why not, if it makes it better looking? Miss Forbes gives some quite easy and harmless ways to change ever so slightly the color of your hair and to improve its appearance.

IMPROVING THE HAIR

I see no harm in making use of any modern treatments for making the hair a slightly different color, if the methods make the hair better looking and if they are harmless. This special period sees the popularity of the Hollywood "platinum blonde." From the film actresses point of view, hair bleached nearly white is a great asset, and photographs extremely well, but hair bleached to a medium blonde is more impressive and darker. There are some very clever hair dressers there, they know how to bleach and bleach the hair and yet give it enough oil so it has lustre and so it can be waved. But violent bleaching of the hair is dangerous to it and the scalp. However the fashion will change in another season or so.

But if you have blonde hair, yet not blonde enough to be beautiful, or rather startling, I see no reason why you should not make your hair more blonde by using peroxide in your rise water: when the hair is shampooed, or else the juice of two lemons. Either way bleaches the hair, and neither is dangerous, and certainly not spoonsful of peroxide, or two lemons. And dark hair can be made a ruddy copper with henna shampoos, or given an added tone of dark brown by the use of the French henna I think the ordinary Egyptian henna, made into a pack and applied hot for three minutes each time the hair is washed, is more effective. This is not a hair dye, but a hair conditioner, and the hair not makes it more oily. It simply gives it life and lustre when it has none.

If you use the peroxide or the lemon, you may notice a slight dryness. Make up for this by rubbing the scalp with the finest

Wash—Apply oil before the shampoo. And use one drop of the oil rubbed on the hand, and rub the hand on the hair brush, after the hair has been washed and dried.

Jennie L. H.—Massage the muscles of your throat and chin to build up firmness again and the lines will disappear. Cold water as a last rinse after bathing the face will tone the skin. Do this also every day. Several times a week use a mild astringent to help the flabbiness for the time being, but the building is from astringents. Go back to the back of the firmness you will have to get the blood circulating through the tissues by massage, by building up your general tone. All these are these toning cold rinses. Give particular attention to the muscles over the back of the neck, as these are often the cause for a wobble in that comes from a flabby state.

Mary B.—The reason why an oil will help the hair or lashes to grow is because it counteracts dryness and it also nourishes the roots, and the hair gets a better chance to grow. The same oil may be used on the face, and it soothes and corrects dryness of the skin, yet that does not mean that it will grow hair on the skin where hair has no place. In either instance, the oil improves a starved condition, so nature has a better chance to build up healthier con-

LETTERS AWARDED TO EIGHTEEN MEN TUESDAY EVENING

REV. W. R. HALL PRINCIPAL
SPEAKER: JOHN GARITTY
TOASTMASTER

Corsicana grid fans, 200 strong, honored the members of the 1931 football eleven Tuesday night at St. John's Episcopal church parish hall. Letters were announced for eighteen Tigers and the lettermen will be given letters as soon as the shipmen from the factory arrive. Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the principal speaker, and Johnny P. Garitty, toastmaster. This annual "Tiger" banquet is sponsored by the Corsicana-Civilian club. It was a gala occasion and many fine tributes were paid to the fighting Bengals for their performance against big odds in the recent grid season.

The program was opened with the audience singing "America," led by Dr. J. Wilson Davis. The invocation was given by Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church. Special music was furnished by Garner Clark and his Tiger boosters.

Donald Marr, secretary of the Civilian club, spoke of the annual "Tiger" banquet, the Corsicana-Civilian club, the Bengals and also gave the Civilian creed.

Visitors introduced included Victor Davis, sports writer of the Dallas News; Charles C. Taylor, Hillsboro high school coach; S. B. Burt, star Hillsboro high back; and Leroy Crabtree, coach of the State Home team, 1931 district 14-B champions.

Coach Johnny Pierce announced the following lettermen:

Milton "Red" Goodman, quarter; Jack Hughes, tackle; Norman "Bitty" Price, tackle; Schuyler Murphy, guard; Robert Finley, center; Robert Wilson, half; C. Harris, guard; George Pryor, end; O. Harris, tackle; Roland Pollard, center; W. J. Bowlin, half; Chester Norris, guard; Woodrow Green, half; Joe Bell, guard; Neil Green, fullback; Mack Stewart, end; Don Humphreys, tackle; Cotton McGee, guard.

Goodman played in 49 of the 52 quarters this year and in 30 of the 32 championship quarters.

Results of the questionnaire sent out by Coach P. Douglas to players and coaches of District 9, this district, showed the following answers:

Best offensive back? Robert Wilson.

Best defensive back? Crowther.

Best offensive and defensive line-man? Pryor (Both).

Scholarship Award.

Goodman was presented with the John P. Pryor trophy for the best scholastic record. Goodman is a valedictorian of the mid-term graduating class that receives diplomas here Friday. The scholarship presentation was made by Superintendent W. H. Newberry.

Coach Pierce paid a glowing tribute to the club's spirit and fighting performance and characterized the team as "the best little bunch of boys ever gotten together."

Assistant Coaches Jake Hanna and J. F. Gardner also spoke briefly on the prowess and good qualities of the 1931 Tigers.

George Pryor, all-district end; Robert Wilson, all-district quarter; Maco Stewart, all-state end for second year; and Robert Wilson, all-state half for second consecutive season; spoke on various phases of the past season and their respective records.

Rev. Mr. Hall stated he was proud of the Tigers and he lauded the performance of the lads on the gridiron, their fighting qualities, their spirit and their ability to play. He also lauded the team for their contribution to the clean sportsmanlike display by the Bengals and declared the lightweight football team of 1931 made a record that will stand for a bunch of little boys.

He said twelve games were won in a row by a fighting, courageous band of warriors, and the speaker outlined and compared grid and team sports.

He urged them to be at peace with God and man. Truth in word and actions was also stressed.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

T. C. U. Horned Frogs demonstrated Wednesday night they will be in the thick of the fight to succeed themselves as champions of the Southwest conference this year when they smothered the Texas Longhorns under a 52-22 score, outclassing the Texans in all departments of the game. With this victory, the Frogs replaced the Texas team in a tie with Rice for second place. Baylor is still leading the percentage with one win and no losses. The Longhorns, on the other hand, scored 15 points to gain undisputed lead in the individual scoring race when Kubrick, Texas center, scored only eight points. These two centers were tied for the top prior to Wednesday's game.

The Corsicana Y. M. C. A. Accented Mildred high, 30-29, on Wednesday night, winning in the last few seconds. Mildred has been playing a fine and effective brand of basketball during the past several weeks and again demonstrated the club coached by Coach J. Taylor. The game was a close one, with the Corsicans leading 10-8 at the half. The game was a close one, with the Corsicans leading 10-8 at the half.

There seems to be a movement getting under way for the proposed holding of the B county tournament on the Corsicana Junior high school court, but no definite announcement has been made.

Woman With a Past Meets Man Revealing Real Life Flirtatious Polyandrist Has Character Bared At Well-side Interview---On Historic Spot, Jesus Expounds Highest Truth to Creature

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.
Not all of the hurrying automobiles bearing tourists up and down the Great Road of Palestine, halt at the sprawling gray enclosure, just off the highway below Nablus, which contains one of the most interesting Bible history. Amidst the ruins of a Crusader Church, stands a tiny Greek chapel, half below the present ground level, in which is the veritable well dug by Jacob, four thousand years ago, and made more famous because there once sat on its worn and grooved curb Jacob's greatest Descendant, expounding high truth to a low woman.

That well stirs the imagination; and it is easy to understand why the Greek church made it a shrine. Not only does it recall memories of wandering Jacob, forefather of the Chosen People, but it also brings to mind the millions of thirsty travellers who throughout the ages, have been thrashed from its cool, sweet depths. For, as the woman said to Jesus, "The well is deep"---a hundred feet down to water, and thirty-five feet of water, as the monks have told us. Now, the well is a simple affair, with a wire rope, is used for drawing water.

It was not always so easy. The rude and grooves worn in the solid stone curbing bear mute testimony to the laborious efforts of weary women, through the centuries, to draw water. In the East, the women are still the drawers and carriers of water, as in the days of Rebecca and of Jesus.

At the end of the Day.
Our story opens toward the end of the day. It was six o'clock in the evening, and Jesus with his companions had tarried at the well, the latter going off to the nearby village to buy food. They were all tired and hungry and covered with the dust of the limestone road. We would not forego this picture of the weary Christ, sympathetic Companion of the Road to all wayfarers.

While the Master sat on the well-curb, resting, and doubtless musing on the life and wanderings of Jacob; and upon Joseph's tomb, which was near, one of the village women came to draw water, and he asked a drink of her. She was a Arab creature, like all the women of that region, but more than a woman with a past; yet still eager for conversation with any chance-meet man. She tried to make talk, prolonging, for this purpose, the fulfillment of the stranger's request. He was polite but more man. Her thoughts were those of her kind. Even to the end of the immortal conversation, she failed to grasp its higher significance.

A Bedraggled Sheep.
That He would so patiently and sincerely enter into talk with this poor creature, is but one of the many evidences of the rare democracy of Jesus. His shepherd spirit saw her as a lost and soiled and bedraggled sheep; and He had compassion upon her. That even such as she could enlist the Savior's concern is part of a sinful world's gospel of Hope. And she became the bearer of the Good News, the means of her village's receiving a two-day visit from Jesus. Better lives than hers found a Saviour because of the patience and consideration of Jesus for a frivolous woman.

Had the Great Teacher been a present-day professor, He might have dwelt, with leering lasciviousness, upon the sex problem; and probed the woman's complex. For she was more modern than many of our contemporaries, in that she had practiced "personal liberty" and achieved "experience" and "lived her own life" with five husbands as proof thereof. The she was still a rattle-brained unsatisfied woman has his teaching for "moderns" who dally with the thought of going her way.

But Jesus responded to her hunger on the highest level. He talked about God, and God's great gift of living water, and of spiritual water, and of spiritual satisfaction. The woman had raised the race issue, as between Samaritans and Jews. (By the way, to this day no Jews are to be found in Nablus, the modern Shechem, the present home of the Samaritan remnant. The intolerant Moslem population does not mind the Samaritans, but will not admit that Jesus disclaimed this old controversy, and pressed the living issue.

Life's Real Satisfaction.
In this morning's paper, find an address by a judge, before a United Earth gathering, admonishing his hearers to learn the real lesson of this depression, which is that the abiding and unshakable satisfactions of life are spiritual. What Jesus said to this poor creature at the well is what thousands of thinkers are saying to the world today. Already there is a clearly-discernable trend toward a new appreciation of religion's place in human life. We have tested materialism to the full, and it has failed us tragically. Now the thirsty world is seeking the "living waters" of our Lesson.

Many empires and conquerors have erected great structures when this Palestine Road; they have all fallen in turn---but Jacob's well still flows on, refreshing the thirsty. I well recall what it was to me on a hard, hot, ride one midsummer day, in a motorcar from Nazareth to Jerusalem. The water tasted as cool and sweet and satisfying as did to Jacob and his men when the difficult well was first dug. There are rewards and satisfactions that outlast the centuries, and the "living water" is one of those.

Thinking On Two Planes.
As we read this beautiful old story of the woman at the well, incident that has been a favorite theme of art and poetry for centuries---we note that the silly woman was constantly trying to bring the talk down to a lower level, while Jesus was lifting it up to a higher plane.
She wanted to argue, in her right-minded way, about the race question, the religious issue, the practical difficulties. Her thinking ran to the irrelevant and the irrelevant to the essential. She was brought to the village with an amazing tale, it was not of the great Good News she heard, but of a man who had told her all about herself.
At this phase of the incident we are reminded how the trivial and

Texas Senators Ask Recreation Claims Agency

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (P)—An early recreation of the Mexican mixed claims commission, was urged at the White House today by Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard of Texas. Sheppard said the commission's life expired in August, 1931, and that negotiations looking to settlement of claims by American citizens against Mexico amounting to many millions of dollars were now at a standstill.

Both Texas senators told Walter Newton, one of the President's secretaries, with whom they conferred, that a speeding up of negotiations for the formulation of a convention between the United States and Mexico for the rectification of the Rio Grande channel near El Paso was badly needed.

A treaty is necessary to initiate actual work, Connally said.
